CURRENT MARKET CHALLENGES

TWO CORE PROBLEMS:

1. Health-conscious trends and lactose intolerance are driving increased demand for non-dairy options.
2. Limited dairy-free ice cream options

THE CURRENT STATE OF DAIRY QUEEN'S MARKET OPPORTUNITY:

- 36% of Americans, approximately 120 million people, are lactose intolerant = the lost customer walking past DQ right now
- 41% of U.S. consumers actively try to avoid or limit dairy consumption = the demand already in the market
- 42 store closures and flat AUV = the stagnation that makes inaction dangerous
- $2.65 billion market growing at 15.3% CAGR = the window that is closing

³ BENEQ CONSUMER SURVEY (2023), AS CITED IN DAIRY FOODS MAGAZINE (2024). 41% OF U.S. RESPONDENTS TRY TO AVOID OR LIMIT DAIRY CONSUMPTION. DAIRYFOODS.COM

⁴ GRAND VIEW RESEARCH (2025). GLOBAL DAIRY-FREE ICE CREAM MARKET PROJECTED TO REACH $2.65B BY 2030 AT A 15.3% CAGR FROM 2025-2030. GRANDVIEWRESEARCH.COM

UNMISTAKABLY DQ.

MEET JORDAN

The Inclusive Treat-Seeker • DQ Non-Dairy Primary Target

Jordan is a 28 year old Midwesterner who refuses to choose between eating well and enjoying dessert. She wants treats that feel fun, satisfying, and shareable, whether it's after a workout or at a cookout with friends.

She values non dairy, organic, and better for you ingredients, but only if the taste delivers. She keeps up with trends on TikTok and loves discovering new favorites.

With vegans, lactose intolerant friends, and picky kids in her circle, Jordan looks for one dessert everyone can enjoy. She isn't searching for the non dairy option. She's searching for the best option that just happens to work for everyone at the table.

AT A GLANCE

Lifestyle

Active, post-workout treats, group hangs

Discovery

TikTok, local pop-ups, word of mouth

Label behavior

What She Wants

- Great flavor without feeling like a compromise
- Easy to find at places she already shops
- Variety and customization to match different tastes and food preference
- Simple, recognizable ingredients she feels good about

ICE CREAM COMPETITORS

BEN & JERRY'S

Iconic ice cream brand known for creative flavors, social mission, and premium quality.

JENI'S ICE CREAMS

Artisanal ice cream brand focused on exceptional ingredients and inventive flavors.

BASKIN ROBBINS

The world's largest ice cream chain, known for variety and the "31 flavors" tradition.

ANDY'S FROZEN CUSTARD

Regional frozen custard favorite known for its rich, creamy custard and made-fresh approach.

CURRENT PREFERENCE

- Middle, neutral market
- Limited health conscious options
- Limited flavor variety

OPERATIONAL CHALLENGES & GROWTH POTENTIALS

Operational & Cost Considerations

- Plant-based soft serve base increases food costs by an estimated 30–55%
- Additional training and allergen protocols required for cross-contamination prevention
- Separate blending tools and operational procedures may be needed
- Franchise adoption dependent on sales lift and operational simplicity

Revenue & Growth Potential

- Premium pricing opportunity of +$1.00–$1.75 per Blizzard as this market grows
- Estimated +3–5% increase in average ticket value
- Potential +4–7% lift in dessert category sales
- Incremental family traffic from previously excluded dairy-sensitive consumers
- Increased visit frequency through seasonal/LTO flavor launches
- Strong co-branding appeal and social engagement potential

THANK YOU
